EXPLANATION AND REMARKS.

HISTORY AND DESIGN.

The Northwestern Ohio Normal School was established August 14th, 1873, for the instruction and training of teachers in the science of education, the art of teaching, the best methods of governing schools, to give a good, practical education. It has been in successful operation for two years, meeting with increasing success, receiving students from all parts of the country. The object of the institution is to provide the best means for obtaining a thorough and practical education: an education that will fit the student to occupy successfully any position of public trust: to fill his true position in life.

LOCATION.

The village of Ada is in the midst of a fertile, healthy country, and is easily accessible from all parts of the country, by means of the great net-work of railroads in the State—situated on the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railroad, midway between the intersections of the Dayton & Michigan road at Lima, and the Cincinnati, Sandusky & Cleveland road at Forest.

DISCIPLINE.

The government is lenient and parental, yet firm. The moral interests of the students will receive especial attention. Religious influences are so wielded that all inclination to vice and evil is discomfituated. The different churches and sabbath schools are regularly attended by the students. Each student is required to render a cheerful obedience to the few rules that are necessary for the government of the school. Students are not permitted to attend places of public resort which have a tendency to waste their time and money and corrupt their morals.

COURSES, DEGREES.

Three courses, the Classical, the Scientific, and the Normal, have been arranged for the accommodation of all. The degree of Bachelor of Arts will be conferred upon those who complete the Classical course. The degree of Bachelor of Science will be given to all who finish the Scientific course. A short course, the Normal, has been formed for those who desire to make teaching a specialty, and yet have not the time to finish a more extended course. Those completing the Normal course will receive a certificate to the effect that they have finished a two years' course.

MENTAL CULTURE.

It has been the object of those engaged in teaching, by new methods of illustrations, to awaken interest, to increase energy, to give confidence, to develop comprehensive thought, and thereby to accumulate power to communicate understandingly to others, what has been taught. Every individual should have opportunities equal to his capacities. Each person is morally accountable for his intellectual qualifications. An institution of learning must keep pace with the age in which it lives. It should reach beyond the old landmarks of a century ago.

LITERARY CULTURE.

No education is complete without a full literary culture. No institution of learning is truly such without ample facilities for literary drill. The young man, or young woman who goes out into active life, without a good literary qualification, is like a ship without a compass. No one has a moral right to be destitute of this culture, because it comes within the means of all.
LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are two model Literary Societies in connection with the institution—the Franklin and Philomathean, affording excellent opportunities for culture in composition, punctuation, select and original declamations, debate, criticism and parliamentary usage. Each Society has a good library, and hall suitable for its meetings.

SOCIAL CULTURE.

Man is endowed with four leading natures,—the moral, the intellectual, the physical, and the social. All should be harmoniously cultivated to form a well balanced mind. To this end, in addition to the moral, intellectual and physical culture, social lectures, reunions and entertainments are given occasionally.

COMMERCIAL SCIENCE.

Let the young learn what they will use when they grow older. A business education will be a benefit to every person, whatever his future occupation may be. To the farmer it will teach business habits and attention to accounts which will give him increased interest and success in business. To the mechanic it will teach order, system, management, the practical value of book-keeping, and remedy many deficiencies. To the professional man it will afford a clearer insight into practical operations of business affairs and give him facilities in obtaining practice. Many persons who claim liberal education, do not know how to "open a set of books," or keep a correct legible cash account, while but few are able to correctly write a promissory note or draft. Students will be drilled in the principal or auxiliary books; also in banking, partnership and joint stock, mercantile forms and commercial papers will be written and critically discussed.

SPECIAL WRITING COURSE.

This course embraces plain, business and ornamental Penmanship, including more than forty different styles of writing, pen-drawing, card-marking, lettering and printing. A separate room, well furnished, is provided for the various writing classes. Mr. D. S. Pence, the writer without hands, has charge of all the writing classes. A fine prize executed by the teacher will be awarded to the one making the most improvement.

NORMAL CLASSES.

Classes are formed for the special instruction of those who intend to prepare themselves for the teacher's duties. The exercises consists of lectures on the mind, school organization, school management, essential qualifications of the teacher, best methods of imparting instruction, the ideal teacher, &c.

MODEL CLASSES.

Following the instruction in the Normal classes the model class, composed of a number of pupils from the village, of different ages and stages of advancement, is brought before the Normal class, thus the theories which are given are practically illustrated.

RECITATIONS.

Each class has a daily recitation of from forty-five to sixty minutes, giving a short review of the preceding lesson and reciting the lesson of the day. The subjects and topics are assigned at the previous recitation, giving ample time for full investigation and thought, which will be produced the next day in discussion of principles.

EXAMINATIONS.

Public examinations are held the last day of each term. Regular written examinations are also sustained every four weeks. All students, whose average term exceeds 75 per cent., are promoted to the next higher class. Students, or parents who desire a full report of deportment, scholarship and class standing, can have the same by calling upon the Secretary of the Faculty.
APPARATUS.

Apparatus for illustrating the various sciences, has been procured, while new additions will be made as the advancement of the institution demands.

ROOMS.

There has been a scarcity of rooms heretofore. Our facilities are now so that all can be accommodated with good rooms. The Boarding Hall, erected by Mr. Rutledge, has fine rooms for either rooming or self-boarding. Hereafter the Hall will be under the control of the President of the Faculty.

BOARDING.

Good boarding can be obtained in private families, everything furnished, at from $3.75 to $3.50 per week. Those who rent rooms can hire good table boarding at from $2.00 to $2.50. Club company boarding has been costing but $1.60 the present term. The boarding club will be in operation every term in the year.

REMARKS.

All students are expected to be present at Chapel exercises, at 9 o'clock every school day morning, unless excused. The institution is free from all sectarian bias. Religious services and Sabbath schools will be held at the different churches at which students are warmly invited to attend. Classes will be formed at the beginning of each term, in any branch if called for by no less than three. Those desiring to receive the greatest benefit should be present the first day and continue to the last day of the term. Tuition must invariably be settled in advance. No one is admitted as a member of a class without presenting his receipt. No tuition will be refunded, except in case of a protracted sickness of three weeks. Text books will be rented by the term at from 10 to 15 cents. Those desiring to buy can obtain them at low rates. No student is permitted to use tobacco within the school building.

ERRATA.—The name of Mary Williams, Dunkirk, Ohio, was omitted by mistake in the list of instrumental music scholars.
