DR. ALBERT EDWIN SMITH

President Emeritus

When Dr. Albert Edwin Smith conferred the degrees upon the graduating class on May 27 he brought to a close a very active career as President of Ohio Northern University.

Dr. Smith came to Ohio Northern University in 1905 from Marion, Ohio, where he was pastor of the Epworth M. E. church. He had received his educational training in Clairmont Academy and Ohio Wesleyan University, where he received the A. B. degree in 1887 and the Ph. D. degree in 1898. Later he became a member of the board of trustees of his Alma Mater and was honored with the degree of D. D. in 1906.

It was during the presidency of Dr. Smith that Ohio Northern began to take on the modern trends in education. His building program has given the University a group of beautiful and modern buildings. The first steps were taken in establishing a working endowment, during the latter part of his administration.

The material changes include the rebuilding of the Administration building as the Hill Memorial after the disastrous fire in 1913. The Pharmacy building was moved to its present location to make room for the new building program. The Lehr Memorial was built in 1914. The Law building was built in 1924. Taft Gymnasium and Presser Music Hall were completed in '29. Other important improvements were the new power plant and the new athletic field.

The trustees in recognition of his work elected him president emeritus at the recent meeting. Dr. Smith will keep close to Northern as he has announced that he will continue to secure endowment for the University. He carries with him the good wishes of thousands of graduates and former students of Ohio Northern.

President Outlines Financial Plans

The Alumni of Ohio Northern will be interested to learn that the trustees in their May meeting approved the plans that had been matured for the increasing of the financial resources of the University. Among the important steps that were taken were the following:

First, the approval of the opening campaign for funds at the earliest practicable moment among the Alumni and others who are interested in the well being of Ohio Northern. It is proposed to employ three men in the field. The vice president, Dr. D. H. Bailey, as chairman of the field work; Mr. C. E. Wintringham, who will be added to the staff in September to carry on the work of endowment secretary; and Professor Slesman who, after completing twenty-five years of service in teaching at Ohio Northern, is assistant secretary to Mr. Wintringham. It is felt that these men, because of their experience and wide contacts both in Ohio and elsewhere, will be able to carry on a quiet but persistent campaign during the next year. In this connection it should be noted that it is the plan of the University to keep two men hereafter always employed in the field so that with the expiration of Dr. Bailey's office of vice president at the end of the next academic year the University will constantly have two representatives at work with the hope of strengthening the financial resources of the institution.

The second important movement was the approval of the proposition made by F. U. Brookhart and Mr. Charles Scott to sell over the next few years $2,000,000 worth of endowment life insurance with Ohio Northern as the beneficiary both as to dividends and life and death interest. Mr. Scott and Mr. Brookhart are entering enthusiastically on this work and it is confidently expected that over a number of years the results will be very gratifying.

In the third place the Board of Trustees approved the creation of an Alumni Advisory Council of twenty-five members to support the drive for funds among the alumni group. The executive committee is now at work seeking to construct a representative and distinctive council which will act as the organizing body and the directing force of the campaign among Alumni. Heretofore, the practice in colleges has been somewhat idealistic and Ohio Northern has been no exception to the rule. Hereafter it is hoped to make all our movements cooperate in the widest sense and win the heartiest support of the Alumni because Ohio Northern is primarily the Mother College of all the men and women who have found opportunity and advancement because of their connection here.

The general objectives of the campaign for funds have been stated in previous issues of the Alumnus. It may be well however, to add that we are seeking an additional $1,600,000 of which $1,000,000 will be segregated for endowment and $600,000 for the creation of a building fund. These objectives must be reached if Ohio Northern is to meet the constantly revised standards of the various accrediting associations in the country.

In closing, may I here express my personal appreciation of the growing and enthusiastic interest being manifested by the alumni group throughout the country. With this kind of spirit the historic tradition of Ohio Northern can be carried on into the future with considerable assurance and certainty of success. It is the fervent hope of your leadership that this University shall always be the Door of Opportunity for the man and woman of limited means but if we are to realize this aspiration it will be more than necessary that endowment and equipment be forthcoming in order to guarantee the success of such an enterprise in the day when living costs are unusually high.

Soliciting therefore your continued cooperation on behalf of Ohio Northern, I am,

Cordially yours,

ROBERT WILLIAMS,

President.

DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM APPROVED

At the May meeting of the Alumni Association a resolution (which appears elsewhere) was unanimously adopted petitioning President Williams and the Board of Trustees to inaugurate a program for the placing of Ohio Northern on a stronger financial foundation and in a more desirable position among the great universities of the country. The association pledged hearty cooperation in such a movement if adopted.

At its session the following Monday, the request was not only granted by President Williams and the Trustees but plans were adopted for an extensive and intensive effort to carry out its provisions during a period of at least the next three years. Two well known alumni of the school have been selected who will devote their entire time to this program: the Rev. C. E. Wintringham and Dr. L. C. Sleesman. Dr. D. H. Bailey was selected as chairman of field work and President Williams has promised to give as much time as possible to this service.

Everybody gives to benevolent objects. The American people are giving as never before. Ohio Northern has not received her share in this giving because her nets have not been adequately placed in these streams of beneficence. That is the task to which every loyal alumnus of Ohio Northern is summoned for support.

REV. C. E. WINTRINGHAM, '17
Pastor M. E. Church, Delphos, O.

DR. DAVID H. BAILEY
Vice President

The organization will consist entirely of Ohio Northern men and women beginning with Paul Bainter, president of the association and extending to local organizations covering the entire country. The alumni of each of the four colleges, Arts, Law, Engineering and Pharmacy will be asked to give their major efforts to their own college and all gifts for endowment and buildings will be allocated to these colleges as designated by the donors.

The executive committee of the association has in preparation a bulletin explaining in detail the plans which in due time will be mailed to all alumni. Also cards for the listing of prospects from among the men and women of means and benevolent inclinations in the various communities whose attention might be directed to Ohio Northern. There are multiplied thousands of such people in the country, towns and cities. Several thousand of these should be placed on the list of prospects for our Alma Mater. The only way to secure such a list is through the alumni.

A committee of twenty-five well known alumni is being selected by the executive committee of the Alumni Association to study the more imperative needs of each of the colleges of the University and recommend objectives for buildings and equipment. It is agreed that each of the colleges must be amply endowed in order to meet the growing standards in these professions.

ALUMNI BUSINESS MEETING

The regular business session of the association was held in Philo hall on Saturday morning, May 24. The minutes of the previous meeting; the reports of the secretary committee; the reports of the executive committee; and the report of the alumni secretary were read and approved.

The president, Mr. Paul Bainter, then urged consideration of the proposed constitution. There was one amendment offered and approved: that any three local clubs may propose additional candidates to the offices mentioned in Article VII, Section I. The constitution with this amendment was unanimously adopted.

W. D. Niswander, the alumni secretary, suggested that the New York alumni, who had done such splendid work in editing the Alumnus should be given special recognition. A resolution to this effect was unanimously adopted.

Development Program Approved by Alumni

The following resolution pledging the support of the alumni was unanimously adopted:

*To President Williams and
The Board of Trustees of Ohio Northern University:*

We, the members of the Alumni Association of Ohio Northern University, in annual session this 24th day of May, 1930, declare as our judgment and feelings that steps should be taken and a program adopted with the object of immediately placing our University on a firmer financial foundation and on a higher rating among the colleges and universities of the country.

We declare as our judgment that if agreeable to President Williams that the president of our association and the executive committee, in conjunction with the alumni secretary and the administration of the University, should select and appoint a committee of twenty-five of our most widely known loyal alumni or alumnae, which committee, in conjunction with the president of the association and executive committee and the university administration should proceed at once to determine the immediate requirements of the University and develop plans and work out ways and means of meeting these requirements.

We declare our willingness to support such a program of development, and to give our individual and collective service as far as practicable to the consummation of these objectives, should these recommendations receive the endorsement of President Williams and the Board of Trustees.

The following officers were elected:

President, Paul Bainter, Zanesville, O.

Vice Pres., L. H. Gardner, Cleveland, O.

1,000 Volumes Added to Law Library

The library of the College of Law now has over 5,000 volumes as a result of the addition of 1,000 volumes through funds raised in the drive to meet the standards of the American Bar Association. The immediate plan calls for 7,500 volumes.

Publicity Department

Journalism and publicity work at Ohio Northern are to be co-ordinated. A fully equipped department will be arranged in the rooms now occupied by the school of commerce on the third floor of Lehr.

The plan is to provide adequate facilities for the university's publicity bureau, and classes in journalism, as well as for the staffs of the student publications.

L. J. Freeman has been placed in charge of working out the details of the new program. Mr. Freeman is instructor of the journalistic courses.

ALUMNI DAY FESTIVITIES

Annual Dinner

Nearly 250 attended the annual dinner at the Lutheran church basement. Many were turned away because the accommodations were inadequate. It is the plan to have adequate facilities to care for all next year.

Mr. Bainter introduced Attorney Eugene Lippincott, '02, of Lima, Ohio, as the toastmaster of the occasion. Mr. Lippincott made good use of his legal training in keeping the situation in hand. Brief remarks were made by S. S. Stewart, P. R. Marshall, Dr. J. W. Millette, S. A. Hoskins and John H. Taft. Dr. A. E. Smith, Dr. Robert Williams and Sarah Lehr Kennedy were the principal speakers. Others presented were C. R. Alden, E. E. McAlpin, Mrs. C. B. Hickernell, Alden Elliott, Dr. D. H. Bailey, Jay P. Taggart, Floyd Shook, Dr. George Anderson, P. W. Turner, Mrs. P. W. Turner, Mrs. A. E. Smith and Mrs. Robert Williams.

Special musical numbers were by Miss Violet Lewis, accompanied by Mrs. P. R. Marshall and Robert Wilson, accompanied by Mary Phillips.

Luncheon Groups

Various groups gathered at the University Cafeteria for reunions. The alumnae had a special gathering in the private dining room in the cafeteria. In the afternoon many witnessed Northern triumph over Otterbein in a track meet, others reuned, and the social center was the scene of a happy gathering celebrating the success of that project.

COMMENCEMENT, 1930

Dr. Smith Delivers Farewell Baccalaureate

Text, Mark 10.

35. And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came unto him saying, Master, we would that thou shouldst do for us whatsoever we would desire.

36. And he said unto them, What would ye that I should do unto you?

37. They said unto him, Grant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory.

Politically, educationally, commercially, religiously the world will never be captured by age—it must ever be the conquest of youth.

Whether we think of Joseph, riding in the chariot of authority at thirty; or of David, bringing down Goliath at twenty; or of Daniel, superior and supreme in state on the very threshold of manhood; or of Alexander, king of Macedonia at twenty, the master of the world at thirty-three; or of Lord Pitt, premier of Great Britain at twenty-four; or of Nathan Hale, climbing in patriotic self-sacrifice the scaffold to find in it a throne of immortality at twenty-one; or of Lindberg crossing the Atlantic on an adventurous flight at twenty-five; or of Jesus Christ redeeming a race at thirty-three, youth has ever furnished the dash and daring, the sinews of effort and has ever been the victor.

I invite you to study with me for a little while the scene presented in the text and to consider—

- I. The Glory of Youth.
- II. The Ambitions of Youth.
- III. The Relationships of Youth.

Jesus is the climax of character and he has the power to make those who follow him like himself. Look how he changed the young men of that early band! From ignorant, unlettered firshermen, and despised tax-gatherers, unstable, hot-headed, full of doubt, denial and desertion, he made them to be heroes of a world-conquering faith, gave them leadership in all the ages in things spiritual and proved what divine companionship can do for men. Whatever miracles he may have performed, this was his greatest, the miracle of character-building.

Trend in Modern Education Stressed

Rev. Dr. Frank Kingdon, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of East Orange, New Jersey, delivered the commencement address upon the above thought. He said in part:

"We are undergoing an intellectual, religious, and philosophical awakening comparable to the renaissance which swept over the western world in the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries."

Dr. Kingdon declared that the significant thing of our day is search. He pointed out how many of the modern writers and thinkers are placing new interpretations before us.

In emphasizing these thoughts Dr. Kingdon told the class: "You have your choice of mediocrity which the world will give you or of living your own life of fullness in action."

It was the general feeling that the baccalaureate sermon was one of the best of the twenty-five delivered by Dr. Smith. It clearly showed much study and thought upon the text.

The address of Dr. Kingdon was declared by Dr. Smith to be the best ever delivered to a graduating class at Northern. Dr. Kingdon is a very close personal friend of Dr. Robert Williams.

Conferring of Degrees

The graduates were given greater individual recognition than has heretofore been the custom. Each graduate was presented to the audience individually. Dr. Smith, assisted by Mrs. Margaret Whitworth, the registrar, presented to each his own diploma.

New Clubs to be Organized

The time of year will soon be at hand when we wish to give more consideration to the organization of the alumni. There are many who have expressed a willingness to help organize local clubs in the communities where there are none. Will not others write to the alumni office so that we can have a larger nucleus to work from?

Some of the clubs that have been established for some time are not sufficiently active. This fall would be a fine time to begin a new page in your club history. Get back of your officers and urge them on in their responsibility.

Dr. Robert Williams is anxious to meet as many of the local clubs this fall as possible. Begin your plans right now for a real get-together and tell us your plans so that we can arrange to have Dr. Williams meet with you.

The commencement visitor was greatly pleased with his return to the Old School. Many were here that had not seen the old campus for many years. It was indeed a beautiful sight to see the wonderful changes.

And what a joyous reunion. Everybody was smiles. And then the Big Alumni Dinner. Were they happy? If you had been here you would not question. "Annie Laurie," "The Old Gray Mare," "Carrie Me Back to Old Virginnie," etc., gave a fine setting for Gene Lippincott to get the ball rolling. How the ball did roll. Hoskins, Stewart, Millette, Shook, and many others made strike after strike even in spite of some slight slips. ALL WE HAVE TO SAY IS DON'T MISS THE NEXT BIG EVENT. HOMECOMING!

All for Northern

It is not the plan for this office to become an agency for our graduates. However, some of our capable students have no immediate leads for good positions. Already we have a large number of alumni who are doing the school a real service in helping our graduates secure positions either in their own organizations or others. Our graduates are making good. Just recently Dean Loy told me of a letter he had received from the superintendent of a small city system that a Northern graduate of the class of 1929 was his best teacher, even though a beginner. What we can do for Alma Mater we do for ourselves.

To New and Old Alumni—

The class of 1930 has come to your midst. Are you going to make them welcome? It is high time that more attention be given to the younger graduates. Dr. John H. Taft and others have urged that this field of cultivation is necessary.

It is our plan to tell you where the class of 1930 is located individually in the October number of the Alumnus. It is a little too early for them to know just where they are going to be located for the year.

The class elected Miss Pauline Bronstein of 6213 Quincy Ave., Cleveland, Ohio, as their secretary. With the cooperation of the individual members of the class of 1930, Miss Bronstein and the alumni office hope to give you information from time to time about this class.

But do not overlook this important duty. Officers of clubs take notice.

To the Class of 1930—

In behalf of the Alumni Association, it is, indeed, a pleasure to welcome you into that organization. May you take advantage of what the local clubs have to offer you. It is worth while to cultivate the friendship of Northern alumni. It is a kindred relation that can mean much.

But above all, keep your class as a unit. This is possible only through your cooperation with your class secretary. Miss Bronstein must be kept informed of your address. The first class reunion will be in 1935, but that is all the more reason that you should often return to the source of knowledge and "to the springs of inspiration, of help, of encouragement."

Dr. A. S. Watkins and Mr. Ralph Broede, superintendent of Wyandot county schools have responded with a considerable number of WANTED O. N. U. Catalogues. We still have need of many prior to 1915.

PROFESSOR SLEESMAN HONORED

The Northern Alumnus is happy to report that one of the most popular campus characters for the last twenty-five years will be devoting his efforts among the people to whom he has become endeared. This is none other than Professor Lenix Craig Sleesman.

Professor Sleesman graduated from Ohio Northern in 1905. This same year he was elected to teach chemistry. His service has been continuous since that date. He has not been absent a single quarter since he began active duties, which gives him the distinction of having the longest continuous service of any faculty member.

Due to the fact that for many years Professor Sleesman was the only instructor in chemistry and that he had not only the pharmacies but the students from the other colleges in his classes, there is no doubt that he is one of the most widely known professors in the state of Ohio.

In 1906 Professor Sleesman became graduate manager of athletics, which position he has held until the present time. For a number of years he has been chairman of the athletic board. He is a member of the American Chemical Society and chairman of the local section.

It is a greater field of service to which Dr. Sleesman is now going. He will be associated with Dr. Bailey and Rev. Wintringham in the new field program that has been developed. Because of his wide and very favorable acquaintance he seems to fit in this program in a most ideal way.

Receives Doctor's Degree

A signal honor came to him at the close of this quarter century of teaching. Oglethorpe University of Atlanta, Georgia, conferred upon him the degree, doctor of science on May 18, 1930. To many it will seem a little strange to say Dr. Sleesman since we have been so long accustomed to say Professor Sleesman.

Following the conferring of the degree Dr. Sleesman was called upon for brief remarks. Even though taken by surprise Dr. Sleesman must have acquitted himself very well according to an editorial in the Griffin Daily News (Georgia), May 30. In a personal letter from the editor he wrote, "Inclosed find the clipping which I hope will please you. I am glad to have met you and I wish you continued success."

LENIX CRAIG SLEESMAN

"Kleider Machen Leute"

W. F. Melton

In college days we read Gottfried Keller's charming little story, in German, "Kleider Machen Leute" ("Clothes Make the People"). If I remember correctly, however, the "armes Schneiderlein" (the poor young tailor) who started out in the world with only a "Fingerhut" (finger-hat or thimble) found that "Leute Machen Kleider" ("People Make the Clothes") instead of clothes making the people.

The sedate, erudite, and dignified editorial writer of the (Atlanta) Constitution recently told a part of the truth about dress, but he said it in an unattractive, almost uncouth way. Here is his sentence: "It's the gal in the frock and not the frock on the gal that makes the combination fascinating." (I may be peculiar, but I don't like to hear a girl or a woman called a "gal." The only creature this name seems to fit is the female of the mule species, especially if she is a gentle old gal.)

We all agree, I am sure, that the girl, or woman who wears the dress is more important than the dress she wears; at the same time we are absolutely sure that a becomingly gowned woman is more fascinating than one who is unbecomingly, awkwardly, or slovenly clad.

Generally, which is more valuable, the contents of a package or the wrappings? Who would think of buying a fifty dollar saddle for a twenty dollar horse?

IN MEMORIAM

George Franklin Getty, '79, '26, died May 31, 1930. Mr. Getty was born in Maryland in 1855. Early in life he with his parents moved to eastern Ohio. He prepared himself for college at Smithville Academy. At Ohio Northern he became a leader of college activities. High ranking in his class won for him the honor as valedictorian. After graduating from Ohio Northern, Mr. Getty entered the law school of the University of Michigan, from which institution he graduated in 1882.

The practice of law was begun at Caro, Michigan. In 1884 Mr. Getty began a successful practice in Minneapolis, Minnesota, where he became one of the leaders of the profession. Specialization in insurance law won for him a very wide reputation. Public affairs received much attention. He served as secretary of the state prohibition party and editor of the party organ, The Review.

In 1903 Mr. Getty made his first connection with the oil industry, when he organized the Minnehoma Oil Company. This company proved very successful and still has a very productive operation in Oklahoma. In 1906 he moved to California, where larger holdings were developed. There were organized the George F. Getty Oil Company and the George F. Getty Gasoline Company. In 1917 he organized a company with the specific purpose of showing his appreciation for the service of a number of his employees. This was the Loyal Petroleum Company, of which he was the president and the largest stock holder.

With all these affairs of business he never lost sight of the importance of proper education. For many years he was the donor of the Getty Debating prizes of the Philomathean Literary Society. In 1926 he shared honor with the late Frank B. Willis in delivering the principal address at the commencement exercises. At this time he was honored by his Alma Mater with the degree of LL. D. Because of his generosity to the endowment needs of Ohio Northern the College of Liberal Arts has

Dean Raabe Receives Degree

The University of Havana, Cuba, conferred the degree of doctor of pharmacy upon Dean Raabe on May 2, 1930. In May, 1928, the Dean enrolled in the Island university for advance work in his special field of endeavor. "My various trips to Cuba have not been merely pleasure journeys," he told his friends after the degree was conferred. His trips were for special study, reports and examinations. The final examination was in March when he appeared before a general committee of five members of the faculty and three special committees in chemistry, plant chemistry, medicinal herbs, and involved problems in pharmacy. After the oral examinations the work was concluded by a thesis.

The University of Havana has a very high standing. This is a splendid tribute to a son and professor of Ohio Northern. Dr. Raabe graduated from Ohio Northern in 1910 and 1911. In 1911 he was elected to the faculty of the pharmacy college and in 1917 he was appointed dean of the college.

Highest Grade in Indiana

Sigma Phi Epsilon's 25th Anniversary

To commemorate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Ohio Alpha Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon at Ohio Northern University, plans are being formulated by the alumni for a Silver Jubilee, to be held in conjunction with the Annual University Homecoming in the fall of 1930.

Sigma Phi Epsilon was founded at O. N. U. in February of 1905, being known at that time as Theta Alpha Chapter of the national organization.

At the beginning the chapter passed through a very critical period. Their future existence had been assailed by the change in administration of the University. The new president was averse to fraternities. This was indeed a trying period for the chapter, but men brought together by a common bond are not easily discouraged. These men worked hard for their ideals and can be justly proud of Sigma Phi Epsilon at O. N. U. today.

In 1908 a number of changes were made in the National organization of the fraternity and the chapter at Northern was re-named Ohio Alpha. At the same time the fraternity moved into a house just west of the campus. Incidentally, it was the first house built in Ada and the first fraternity house at Northern.

In 1915 the fraternity completed building their present home on South Gilbert Street. This was the first home in Ohio to be built especially for the use of a fraternity.

In Sigma Phi Epsilon's 25 years at O. N. U., nearly 500 members have been initiated into the bonds of the fraternity. Among this number are such illustrious graduates as the late Senator Frank B. Willis, Walter Rittman, and the late Henry S. Lehr, first president of O. N. U.

Thomas Bartlett, '18, of 1170 Mulford Road, Columbus, Ohio, is Chairman of the Committee in charge of the jubilee. He promises every old "grad" or former student who returns for the celebration, the time of his life. In fact, he promises that it will be a never-to-be-forgotten event and that each and every one will be happy to say he was present. More detailed announcements will be issued later.

At the recent commencement of Oglethorpe University, the degree of Doctor of Science was conferred upon Professor L. C. Sleesman, Director of the Department of Chemistry, Ohio Northern University. In publicly expressing appreciation of the honor Dr. Sleesman recalled the time when he was a poor boy in Pennsylvania. There were seven of the children, all born in a log cabin. The time came when young Sleesman began to hunger for an education. It was then that he and some neighbor boys, carrying their bread-and-butter lunch, walked miles to a "Summer Normal."

One day it came to young Sleesman's ears that some one, seeing him on the way to school, had remarked, "There goes a black suit with nothing in it." That one cruel remark determined the country boy to be something more than a clothes frame.

During Dr. Sleesman's remarks, when he and his audience were almost choking with beautiful emotion, he let slip a word from his boyhood. He, a university doctor, actually said, "his'n." Right then the tears popped into my eyes. I could not doubt the sincerity of the man or the genuineness of his message.

Which is more important, the saddle or the horse; the engine or the upholstering; the woman or her dress; the man or his suit of clothes? There were no pressing clubs in the wilderness where John the Baptist preached.

Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe University, in a personal letter to Dr. Sleesman closed the letter with the following paragraph: "I have heard some very nice things about your response at our commencement exercises and a great many people have mentioned your name to me since, showing that they appreciated the spirit and fact of your presence."

ALUMNAE HALL

One of the chief centers of attraction was the newly furnished Alumnae Hall. Hundreds of graduates, former students and visitors commented most favorably about this splendid addition to the University as a means of developing the social life of the campus. Dean Wilder and her co-workers together with the splendid cooperation from the alumnae and friends are to be praised for the realization of such a social center.

The Alumnae Hall has already met a real need. It has solved in a very satisfactory way the need of such a center for returning alumnae and friends. It is the hope of Dean Wilder to have more accommodations in the near future in the form of kitchenette and other conveniences.

The furnishing of the hall was made possible by the following contributions:

NEWS OF THE ALUMNI

'01, One of the distinguished sons of O. N. U. is Dr. J. Roscoe Turner, president of the University of West Virginia. In the Sunday, June 15, issue of the Wheeling News there appeared a large sketch of Dr. Turner. On either side were "Medals" and "More Medals" which were a recognition as one of "West Virginia's Builders." The following poem appeared below the sketch:

We have come to the conclusion
To refer to him as "John."
John was born in February,
A. D. eighteen eighty-two,
Down at Mattville; at a very Early age he waded through
All grade school fundamentals,
Spilled the ink and broke the slate,
Packed his socks and incidentals,
Travelled to a neighbor state,
Won some crowns of oleaster
Fresh with academic dew
As a Bachelor and Master
At Ohio Northern U.,
Wrote a heavy dissertation
And received his Ph. D.
At a formal graduation
At the University
Up at Princeton; turned to teaching
Down Louisiana way
Where he dealt in data reaching
Year by year from Adam's day
Then he sowed some seeds of knowledge
At Vinita, 'way out west
In the Willie Hassell College
As the records there attest
As a ruling dignitary
Doctor Turner went to guide
Sandy Valley Seminary
In Kentucky; then he hied
To the eastern states to lecture
Up at Princeton and Cornell
Won success beyond conjecture
In a field where few excel.
Then located in the heart of
New York City. Dean was he.
In a stately college, part of
New York University.
In the cause of education
He continues to pursue
His commendable vocation
At the West Virginia U.
As an author he is rated
With the leaders on the list:
He is justly estimated
A profound economist;
And, endowed with colossian
Intellect his thoughts are found
In the regions empyrean
But his feet are on the ground.
—V. L. OWENS.
